ABOUT THE PROJECT

The project seeks to empower LGBTQ+ youth, allies and people interested in the topic with crucial skills, and foster greater understanding and acceptance in society

To increase self-awareness, by identifying core values and create safe and brave spaces to acknowledge the impact young people could make in their own community, through love, care, joy and fun.

TOPIC

SELF AWARENESS COMMUNITY BUILDING

“Our identities are always changing and growing, they’re not meant to be pinned down. Our histories are never all good or all bad, and running from the past is the surest way to be defined by it. That’s when it owns us. The key is bringing light to the darkness - developing awareness and understanding.”

Brené Brown
